Pre-Screened Wedding Vendors:
Another Way A Grand Wedding.com is looking out for you

SEATTLE, WA – Wedding planning web sites have one common denominator: they all have vendor ads. But A Grand Wedding (www.agrandwedding.com) is the only wedding web site that pre-screens their advertisers, making sure they have a quality service or product priced at $1,000 or less.

“Not just anyone can advertise on our site,” says Georgie Hockett, co-founder and Original Bride of A Grand Wedding. “They not only must have something priced at a grand or less, they must have a quality product that appeals to all kinds of brides.”

And just how do they ‘screen vendors?’ “We double check their rates, we talk to them via email,” explains Hockett “...but ideally we meet vendors face-to-face to see, smell, touch or taste their product... making sure A Grand Wedding brides are getting a quality wedding professional.”

Competitor sites such as TheKnot.com and MyWedding.com (mySeattleWedding.com) accept ads from any wedding professional willing to pay. “But we’re here to help brides out,” says Hockett. “We’re not just a phone book-type listing. We want people to know that vendors on A Grand Wedding.com have a substantial product or service that will appeal to a wide cross-section of brides.”

“We see ourselves as the ‘first screening process’ on behalf of the bride,” smiles Hockett. “After we see that a vendor does have something beneficial to brides—and it’s priced at a grand or less—then we post their ad on our site.”
