A whole new way to Toss the Bouquet:
A Grand Wedding.com gives wedding items away for FREE

SEATTLE, WA—First came Buy, Borrow or Share™—A Grand Wedding.com's 'green', online boutique where brides can purchase, rent or split the cost of unused or gently used wedding items. But today A Grand Wedding.com is 'upping the ante' by announcing they're giving wedding items away for free with their latest venture, Tossing the Bouquet™.

Derived from the tradition of tossing the bride's wedding bouquet and spreading well-wishes to the next bride-to-be, A Grand Wedding.com's Tossing the Bouquet™ is where former brides post wedding items they no longer need; centerpieces, unused favors, even wedding dresses. But these items aren't for sale or for rent. They're free.

"My dress maybe has two or three good years in it before styles evolve," said co-founder and Original Bride of A Grand Wedding.com, Georgie Hockett, who got married in 2003. "I have no idea how much I would sell it for, I don't want to deal with continual dry cleaning [if I rent it out]; I'd rather give it to a girl who is going to love it as much as I do."

Ideal for bridesmaids dresses sentenced to life in the back of the closet, unused Thank You notes, cake cutting utensils or candles, any Tossed wedding item can make a new bride's wedding that much more financially do-able.

A Grand Wedding.com is soliciting all former brides and grooms to post their wedding items on Tossing the Bouquet™. "Let the 'tossing' begin," says Georgie, and secondarily, "...reclaim your closet space!"

About A Grand Wedding

A Grand Wedding (www.agrandwedding.com) is the only web resource where every vendor on the site has a wedding service under a thousand dollars. A Grand Wedding also introduces Buy, Borrow or Share™—a revolutionary 'green' way for brides to purchase, rent or split the bill on wedding items. The A Grand Wedding concept was created by local couple, Dave and Georgie Hockett. "We wanted a beautiful wedding with enough money left over for a beautiful life," says Georgie.
